

ENVIRONMENTAL PARTNERS

The Carbon Reduction Institute (CRI) and Active International have partnered up to further the low carbon economy. As NoCO2 certified business, Active International promotes the CRI certification program. Active International customers can now join the Carbon Reduction Institute certification program using Active International trade credits.

As a consequence of this partnership, the Carbon Reduction Institute is able to involve Active International customers in its carbon neutral certification program at a special rate; settling the difference (up to 15%) with trade credits. Active International and the Carbon Reduction Institute invite you to take action against global warming and become a carbon neutral business!

The following special rates apply for Active International customers:

EMISSIONS ASSESSMENT AGREEMENT

The Carbon Reduction Institute Pty Ltd (CRI) requires the collection of data for the purpose of determining your carbon footprint. CRI takes all care to ensure that data collected is protected and secure, all physical copies are secured in the CRI premises whilst all data is encrypted and protected by password. Please refer to the next page for an outline of your financial data required to accurately calculate your carbon footprint.

Your information will be made available to CRI staff and contractors only for the purpose of undertaking the emissions assessments. Following completion of an assessment (without undertaking any certification) or upon cessation of certification CRI will destroy all raw data collected for the assessment within 90 to 120 days following delivery of the report of cessation of the certification. Should you undertake certification then CRI will retain copies of this information.

All care will be taken to ensure the maximum accuracy of information presented in your emissions assessment report. The Carbon Reduction Institute will not be held responsible for any cost, expense, loss or other liability directly or indirectly that arises from the use of information contained within the emissions assessment report, or any other communication (written or oral) about or concerning your emissions assessment.
